

The European Schools could best be described as a mini-continent within a school, where our students receive a unique form of international education. Our curriculum is structured in a way which places particular emphasis on the sciences and multilingualism.

Approximately 500 children attend the European School of Bergen (NL), which is located near the city of Alkmaar (Noord-Holland province). Our pupils range from 4 and 18 years of age and are grouped in three language sections (anglophone, francophone and Dutch-speaking). Classes are organised in three cycles:

- Nursery cycle (two years),
- Primary cycle (five years) and
- Secondary cycle (seven years).

The European Schools curriculum is the same in all the language sections. Differentiation and inclusiveness are cornerstones of the European schools.

Upon successfully completing their secondary schooling, our students are awarded the prestigious European Baccalaureate (EB). This qualification is fully recognized by colleges and universities throughout the European Union and beyond.
